

“Playing with Mental Models”

1. Please the excerpt from "Resurrection". Think about the mental models for all of the characters. And then ask yourself the question "where do mental models come from?" NOTE: focusing on the young girl and boy will give you some guidance on this!
2. Read the "Iceberg" handout. Identify structures that support your own mental models regarding your "preferred" story of the future of the U.S. food system. First, think about how you would like the food system to be..... then think of structures (that already exist or are needed) to support that system. Think of 3 of each of:

- policies
- organizations
- physical things

Come to class ready to discuss.....
